2017 Gruner Veltliner, 'Hohlgraben' Alte Reben

Varietal(s)	Grüner Veltliner
Region	Kremstal, Austria
Short Summary	Ninth-generation winegrower, Michael Malat took the lead from his father, Gerald, at their Kremstal winery that dates to 1722. Kremstal is a climatic tug-of-war between eastern Pannonian warm winds and cold northern and western winds, and home to diverse soils on large terraces, from loess (wind-blown calcareous fine sands), gravels and various formations of limestone, mica-schist and granulite.
Terroir	Malat's vineyards are located on the right bank (south side) of the Danube. Despite large topographical differences on the two sides of the river, all of the Kremstal is similarly influenced by the cold winds of the Waldviertel from the north and forests from the south, which creates a tug-of-war with the warm Pannonian climate from the east. Well within sight of the Danube, Hohlgraben, which means cave and/or ditch, is an old vine (Alte Reben) Grüner Veltliner parcel that sits on a series of elevated terraces on the southern side (right bank) of the Danube next to the Wachau Gorge.
Cellar Notes	The grapes are hand picked and selected without botrytis. The press is gentle and the fermentation is made spontaneous with natural yeast in 2000-liter old barrels. The first sulfite addition is done right after pressing.
